REPUBLICAN PARTY'S PRICPLES EXPLAINED BY HON. CHAS. KERR

Large Audience Hears Distinguished Son of Mason County Explain the History and Principles of His Party.

There was a good audience at the court house Wednesday evening to hear Judge Charles Kerr, of Lexington, explain the principles and history of the Republican party. He was introduced by Judge C. D. Newell, one of his old school mates, and he devoted some time to expressing his delight at again being back among the scenes of his childhood and young manhood.

Judge's discussion was fair and on a very high plane. His audience was greatly pleased and those who heard him today know much more about the two great parties. He explained that when he left Mason county he was an ardent Democrat but that after he studied the differences of the two parties, he saw that either the leaders of the Democratic party were wrong or he was wrong and he joined the Republican party. He congratulated the Community Club upon its study of the great political problems of the day.

In his address, Judge Kerr said in part: Ignoring the names there have never been but two great political parties since the foundation of the Republic. Each of these parties was born with the Constitution. The divisive principles out of which they grew, have attached to them, more or less intensively, since their organization. The Constitution was a compromise between the extremes of those principles out of which the two schools of political thought grew into being.

Between the two great parties in this country, and the dominant parties of England, from time to time, during the period that has elapsed since the organization of our Government, there will be found no striking analogy. Parties in America are peculiar to our own form of government and the internal, domestic problems which have been the result of our national expansion and development. Having originated in the divergent constructions placed upon the Constitution, each party has sought to impress upon the country that rule of action which would most nearly comport with its interpretation of that instrument.

The Democratic party was first known as the Republican party, and later as the Democratic party. The Republican party has been known as the Federalist, Whig and Republican parties. Minor designations, for our purposes may be ignored. When we use the single designation of Democrat and Republican we comprehend the divisive party tenets that have always existed, and which exist today, to a large extent, fundamentally if not practically.

Two Distinct Differences.

In the constitutional debates two opposite tendencies were distinctly made manifest. These tendencies became even more manifest in the several states to which the Constitution was submitted for ratification, when its provisions were made the subject of general discussion. These were the certifiag and certipetal tendencies. The one sought to create a distinct individualism, coupled with a certain independence in legislation, administration, and jurisdiction on the part of the states, leaving to the national government only questions of foreign policy and the national defense; the other sought to build up a strong national organization in which the states would be subordinated to the central Federal authority. In the cabinet of President Washington, in the persons of Jefferson and Hamilton, these irreconcilable differences were moulded into concrete party alignments. The French Revolution, with its distinctive individualistic inclinations, had a controlling influence over Jefferson, while the disasters which followed the old Colonial Confederation drove Hamilton to the theory of "a more perfect union" held together by a strong centralized government. Concretely expressed the one became the apostle of Liberty the other of Order. Jefferson had faith in the masses and believed in as little authority as possible. Hamilton's views carried him to the opposite extreme. One exalted the state above the Nation, the other the Nation above the state. In this attitude of mind these two great leaders faced each other at the conclusion of the first Washington administration.

Within five years of the formation and adoption of the Constitution party lines were clearly established and tightly drawn. Jefferson, who was fortunately not a member of the Constitutional Convention, became the representative not merely of democracy, in the broad meaning of that term, but of local democracy. His was the doctrine that there is little need for government at all; that the people are sure to go right if let alone, as free from governmental restraint as possible. Resistance of authority was to him a prima facie evidence of justice.

Prayer Meeting Tonight.

PARTY MACHINERY TO BE EXPLAINED MONDAY

Hon Stanley F. Reed Will Explain Primaries and Conventions to Women Voters of Mason County.

Hon. Stanley F. Reed will explain to the women voters of Maysville and Mason county at the court house Monday afternoon, April 26, at 2 o'clock the Machinery of party organization and the functions of primaries and conventions. This is a timely first lesson in the practical workings of the party system of government, since this is the time of reorganizing the parties for the coming presidential campaign and the holding of primaries and conventions to select candidates and write platforms.

The right to hold places on committees, to have a voice in the selection of committee members to participate in the selection of chairmen, to take part in the writing and adoption of platforms and the selection of candidates gives all those who pray, "They will be done on earth as it is in heaven," direct power to help answer the prayer.

All women are invited to take advantage of Mr. Reed's generous gift of his time and knowledge to study with them these important and practical subjects. A note book and pencil will be useful.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

All members of the Maysville Christian church are urged to be present at the morning service, Sunday, April 25. A very important business meeting will follow the communion service and if you are at all interested in calling a pastor you will please be on hand and indicate your desire in the matter. Don't fail to attend this meeting as it may be one of the most far reaching in consequences relative to the future of this church in Maysville.

By order of the OFFICIAL BOARD.

FINANCE COMMITTEE WILL MEET TONIGHT.

The Ways and Means Committee of the City Council will hold a very important meeting at the Council Chamber this evening at 7:30 o'clock when they will take up the matter of appropriating a fund for the carrying on of the work of the County Health department. All members of the committee are urged to be in attendance and all others who are interested are invited.

BURTONVILLE RESIDENCE IS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

The residence of Mr. W. B. Barbour, at Burtonville, was struck by lightning on Tuesday evening and badly damaged. The contents of the building were practically ruined by fire and water.

SMALL BLAZE CALLS OUT FIRE DEPARTMENT.

A small blaze in the Ellet soft drink saloon in Front street called out the local fire department about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. Practically no damage was done and the small blaze was soon extinguished.

CHURCH HAS ATTRACTIVE NEW MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

The Sunday school of the "Little Brick Church" has purchased and had installed in the church building a very attractive parlor grand piano which will add much to the music of this church.

PRAYER MEETING TONIGHT.

The regular mid-week prayer meeting service will be held at the First Baptist church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The service will be in charge of the pastor and the members and the public are invited.

Mr. L. N. "Daddy" Harvin, of the Kentucky Children's Home, Louisville, is here on business and visiting relatives.

COMMITTEE MAKES MANY PLANS FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY

Suggestions Are Made By Executive Committee to Sunday School Officials of County for Big Day.

The committee on Go-To-Sunday-School-Day at its recent meeting made plans for the widest and most complete drive for the attendance of every citizen in Maysville and Mason county they have ever made. The renewed interest in Sunday school work has greatly encouraged the committee and they feel that there was never a better time to impress the work upon our people than now.

The committee asks the superintendents of city and county to cooperate in every way possible in the campaign. In the city committees from each ward will visit the homes and business houses for the purpose of placing window cards in every window; for the county a supply of cards will be sent to each superintendent and they will see that they are placed in the window or some conspicuous place in each home, also placed on all automobiles the owners of which will agree to campaign for Go-To-Sunday-School-Day. Superintendents of both city and county are asked by the committee to follow the following suggestions:

First: Use the window cards to the best of your ability. They will serve a two-fold purpose: a pledge to attend Sunday school, and a continuous advertisement of the day and a booster for Sunday school.

Second: Use the programs provided by the State Association for the day. Schools may add to the program such extra features they may think best to make the programs more attractive.

Third: After deducting your school's necessary expenses for advertising remit the remainder of the day's offering to Mrs. Jos. Wells, County Secretary and Treasurer. After deducting the Committee's expenses for advertising the balance will go to the State Association as the county's part in the state work. Don't neglect this very important matter.

Fourth: Use every method possible to make your school attractive for the day. Many will visit your schools perhaps for the first time. They will be induced to continue their attendance in proportion to the drawing qualities of your school. Do not neglect the lesson period. See that every teacher is at his or her best for the day.

Fifth: Be sure and phone your attendance during the afternoon at 217 Maysville. This is of supreme importance.

AMERICAN LEGION TO TAKE ACTION ON PENDING BILL

Local Member of State Executive Committee Requested to Warn Posts
In This District.

Efforts are being made in Washington to defeat the American Legion Adjusted Compensation bill according to a telegram received here this afternoon by Mr. R. N. Stickley, member of the State Executive Committee of the American Legion. Mr. Stickley is immediately warning the posts in his district to get into communication with their congressman in an effort to defeat the plan.

The telegram from the State Adjutant received this afternoon by Mr. Stickley follows:

"Telegram from National Commander states strong pressure being brought to bear on House Ways and Means Committee in Congress to change American Legion Adjusted Compensation legislation. This pressure is coming from forces believed to be hostile to the project with the object of securing its ultimate defeat. The National Commander urged Kentucky to make an effort through its members of Congress to have Ways and Means committee report the bill out this week. The National Commander says time is critical and will require the united effort of all states to secure favorable action. I suggest this information be transmitted immediately by you to posts in your district with advise to Posts to communicate with their Congressmen if they so desire."

THE RIVER.

The river at this point continues to rise slowly but the District Weather Forecaster says the crest is near. At 8 o'clock this morning the local gauge registered 43.8 feet while at 3 o'clock this afternoon it registered 45.1 feet. District Weather Forecaster Devereaux predicts the crest here to be 46 or 47 feet.

MARTIN-LACY.

Mr. James C. Lacy, aged 23, and Miss Mildred Martin, aged 22, both of Dover, were married here this morning at the County Clerk's office by County Judge H. P. Purnell.

FUNERAL FRIDAY MORNING.

The funeral of Mrs. Rachel Parks will be held from the home in Short street Friday morning at 10 o'clock and burial will be made in the Maysville cemetery.

Rev. E. R. Overley, pastor of Grace M. E. church, Newport, passed through the city this morning with his two sons, Harold and Kenneth, en route to Germantown to visit relatives.

FARM BUREAU BUYS THIRTY TONS OF WHITE SUGAR

Members of Mason County Farm Bureau Will Be Given Opportunity to Buy Sugar at Saving.

The officers of the Mason County Farm Bureau this morning purchased by telegraph thirty tons of granulated sugar to provide for the needs of their members in the canning season. The Farm Bureau has been endeavoring to purchase some sugar for some time, but have been unable to secure a quantity worth while. The sugar which they have contracted for was purchased through Hiller and Beck, of New Orleans, and the condition of the market is pretty well reflected by the fact that they were forced to go this distance before being able to purchase any at all. It was impossible to secure a pound in Cincinnati through any of the dealers there.

The charity work which has been carried on by the Farm Bureau came to a sudden halt this morning. Many farmers, and quite a number of others have been using the Farm Bureau without going through the formality of becoming a member. The Bureau's officers specifically state that hereafter the benefits secured through the Farm Bureau will be available to members only. The waiting room and information bureau, market service, will still be open to all, but where the pocket book is intimately affected it is an injustice to those who have paid to support the organization to allow any and all to make free use of its services.

New members may join at the rate of $7.50 for the remainder of 1920.

MASON COUNTY FARM BUREAU.

LEWIS COUNTY REMAINS DEFENDANT IN SUIT.

Circuit Judge C. D. Newell today heard argument by Hon. J. P. Strother, County Attorney of Lewis county, on a demurrer in the suit of Ed. Rand vs. Fleming Jones and Lewis County. The County Attorney contended that the county should not be a co-defendant in the suit but Judge Newell overruled his demurrer.

From reports reaching here as to wholesale and jobber's price on sugar it appears that the price will reach the skies within a few days. Sugar is being sold to jobbers and wholesale dealers at from 27 to 30 cents a pound.

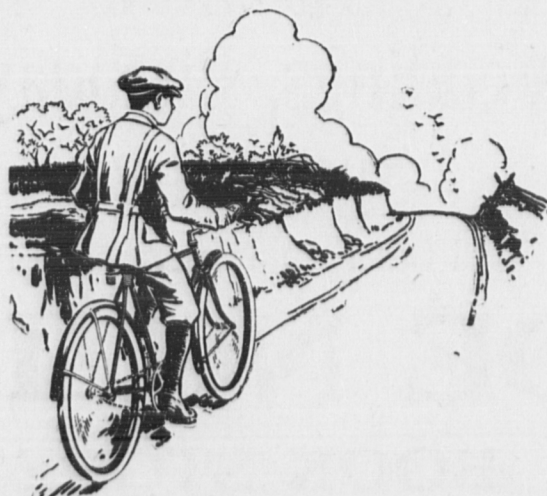

Mrs. Samuel Perry, of Cincinnati, is visiting relatives and friends here.

MERZ BROS.

REPUBLICAN PARTY'S PRINCIPLES EXPLAINED BY JUDGE CHARLES KERR.

entire pre-war period, having been imposed as a part of their political platforms as late as 1856. The sentiments expressed in these Resolutions lead inevitably to the Civil War. They could lead no where else. When Chief Justice Marshall decided that the Supreme Court was the final arbiter of all constitutional questions, and not the states, the issue became so acute that Jefferson began a series of attacks on the judiciary, and, had he succeeded in breaking down that branch of government, by having Marshall and other of its members impeached, as he sought to do, the Union would have been destroyed before it had hardly begun.

National Finances.

Another fundamental difference arose out of the position taken by Hamilton with reference to the national finances. Jefferson carried his state exclusiveness into this branch of domestic order with the same tenacity of purpose he had exhibited with reference to the subject of states rights. Hamilton sought to build up a sound financial system, based on a uniform currency. The Democratic adherents were always averse to a National Banking system, and in consequence there was much confusion and financial distress growing out of the state issues through local institutions. A depreciated currency, as between states, came to be almost as disastrous as the present rates of exchange between this country and the European states.

The Tariff.

The tariff was another early point of difference. This, too, originated with Hamilton. As the North gradually became a manufacturing community, and the South an agricultural section, the question of a tariff, as against free trade, became a vital issue, and out of this grew the Nullification Act of South Carolina, when, strange enough, Jackson took a decided stand against the Nullifiers. Free Trade, or the nearest approach thereto, a tariff for revenue only, has been one of the cardinal tenets of the Democratic party, except when they had an opportunity to enforce it.

Internal Improvements.

Another divisive issue was that of Internal Improvements. As late as 1880, when Hancock was nominated by the Democrats, their platform carried plank to the effect that there was no provision of the Constitution which warranted the government in carrying on a system of internal improvements. Under President Monroe and again under President Jackson the entire system of internal improvements was disputed, only to find the Democrats four score years and more later passing the largest internal improvement budget that had been passed by any party up to that date.

Slavery was more a sectional than a party issue, though many of the issues involving the question of the rights of the states as against the National Government were used in the slavery debates.

Democrats Have Failed.

These, in brief, are among the most distinguishing points of difference to be found in the fundamental policies of the two great parties. Reviewing these one is warranted in asserting that not since the foundation of the government has the Democratic party initiated or fostered any great Constitutional question that it has not failed or resulted in disaster. This is a matter of historic truth. The history of the two parties demonstrate it.

The Democratic party of today would not risk its integrity today upon an affirmation of the Kentucky Resolutions, as it did in 1856. On that issue they failed.

As opponents of a National banking system, as destructive of the vital principles of government, because of its tendency to centralize the money of the country, they not only failed, but now claim to be the author of a system that is the most centralizing that has yet been devised.

As tariff reformers they have been a perpetuating failure.

Opposition to Internal Improvements died with Hancock.

Slavery as a constitutional right has passed into history.

The championship of state's rights has been transferred to the Republican party.

Democratic Autocracy.

Government ownership is directly opposed to the Jeffersonian theory that the National Government could not even own stock in any kind of a public service company, such as canals, turnpikes, and the like.

The League of Nations stands out in bold opposition to every theory of foreign entanglement and international relationship advocated by Jefferson and Madison.

From having been opposed to centralization in every form, we have seen grow up under seven years of Democratic rule the most pernicious and dangerous advancements toward democratic autocracy that has been exhibited in the whole history of the Republic. We have seen grow up a system of bureaucratic federalization that has approached the danger point in the administration of national affairs. To what end all this is leading is beyond conjecture.

Woman 80 Years Old

Says she owes her wonderful health to Vinol, our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic.

Wooster, O.—"The grippe left me in a weakened, run-down condition. Doctors had given me their best tonics without effect. As I have depended on Vinol to build me up every spring for the past nine years with such good results, I tried it. My appetite improved, my strength came back so I am not only taking care of my household duties, but direct the management of two large farms. I tell all my friends to use Vinol when they need strength."—Mrs. MARTHA SICKLES.

Women who are run-down, nervous, lack energy and working strength should take Vinol as it contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Hypophosphites, the very elements needed to restore a lost appetite, enrich the blood and create strength.

Give Me a Friendly, Natural Hand-shake an' a friendly natural tobacco. Keep yo' put-on airs an' "sauced-up" tobaccos for the fellow that likes nut sunaades better than home made pie—

So says a friend of ours named Velvet Joe. And he just about hits the nail on the head.

Velvet is made for men who think there's no smoke like real tobacco. If you are that sort of man, listen:

Velvet was born in old Kentucky, where more than one good thing comes from. It was raised as carefully as any other Kentucky thoroughbred. But the real secret of Velvet's friendly qualities is its slow natural ageing in wooden hogsheads. Ageing in the wood never hurt anything—and least of all, tobacco.

And so we say, Velvet is good tobacco—nothing more or less. It runs second to none.

The picture of the pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince the Most Skeptical Maysville Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action.

The following case is typical.

Maysville residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

Mrs. John Burns, W. Second St., Maysville, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and other kidney trouble. They would come on every three or six months and there were times when I was confined to bed and rendered helpless. The quick and decided benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills was wonderful. I have never had such severe attacks since."

NO TROUBLE SINCE

Nearly thirteen years later, Mrs. Burns said: "I have the same good words of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills today as ever. I haven't needed a kidney medicine since I took them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Burns had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

REPUBLICAN PARTY'S PRINCIPLES EXPLAINED BY JUDGE CHAS. KERR

cation. A nation whose people had as little to do with government as possible, and over whom the government exercised the least possible restraint was to him an ideal democracy. Hamilton entertained no such notions of government. A strongly centralized government presented to him the only form that possessed the necessary elements of stability, consistent with that spirit of democracy which controlled the framers of the National Charter. He, therefore, sought to develop those provisions of the Constitution which, according to his interpretation, vested in the President and Federal Congress a power that would enable them to hold all the parts together.

Three Party Eras.

Party history may be divided into three eras. First, from Washington to Jackson; Second, from Jackson to Lincoln; and Third, from Lincoln to Wilson. The fourth is now in process of development. Some of the issues were carried from one era to another. Some survive even today.

The state which ratified the Constitution, and which had participated in its formation, had been colonies before the Revolution. They had belonged to a Confederation from which they could withdraw at will. When they became an integral part of the Federal Union the old colonial idea of the right to withdraw had not been extinguished. "A more perfect union" did not mean to them a coercive cohesion. The relation of the states to the Union, therefore, became the first great divisive issue.

Kentucky Resolutions.

This question assumed its first serious aspect in the adoption of the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions in 1798. From the outset it was a sectional division. The incident which called forth these resolutions was the Alien and Sedition laws. They declared in effect that the government could exercise only such powers as were delegated to it by the Constitution, and that all powers not so delegated were reserved to the states and the people, and that, therefore, the states, and not the national government, were to be the final judges of the powers delegated to it. The purpose of these Resolutions was to declare that the general government had no power to bind the states by the provisions of the Alien and Sedition laws, and that each state, acting for itself, had the right to nullify the act of Congress by which these withdrawing from the Federal compact if necessary. These Resolutions, the most mischievous as well as the most dangerous firebrands that marked the early political beginnings, were tenaciously adhered to by the Democratic organization during the

SHE WASN'T SICK, BUT HER CHILDREN WERE

Six Months of Care and Worry Were Too Much For Her

GOT THIN, NERVOUS, TIRED

Her Brother-in-Law, a Doctor, Said She Was Anemic, and Advised Pepto-Mangan.

Here is a story of a strong, vigorous mother who never knew what ill-health was. But three years ago her two little boys got into the habit of being sick.

Six months of care and worry were too much for her and brought to light the fact, that, with all her apparent vigor, she really was anemic. She lost flesh, couldn't sleep well and got nervous.

Then the doctor (her brother-in-law) prescribed Pepto-Mangan.

She said: "Fred explained a lot about the special sort of iron-content in Pepto-Mangan, and a lot of other things that I don't understand, but what I do understand is that a bottle of Pepto-Mangan is always going to be in my medicine closet as long as I live. Whatever it contains, I don't know or care, but I do know that it builds me up when I get run down, and that's enough for me."

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red-blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks, and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak, and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists.—Advertisement.
